STABLE VALUE

New York Life Insurance Company (New York Life) has been a leading provider of stable value products for over 40 years and has more than $35 billion of stable value assets under management.

Investment Objective

The GIA is a broadly diversified fixed income portfolio within the New York Life General Account. It was established to provide stable low-risk returns in support of the guarantees of principal and accumulated interest offered under the GIA funding agreement contract² issued by New York Life. This is not a mutual fund.

Investment Strategy

The GIA is not managed to a specific benchmark. Rather, New York Life utilizes a disciplined and highly collaborative investment process that is grounded on the following key principles:

- Portfolio diversification
- Long-term focus
- Bottom-up fundamental research
- Appropriate level of liquidity

New York Life may use affiliated and/or unaffiliated investment managers in the implementation of the overall General Account investment strategy.

Note: The financial strength of New York Life Insurance Company applies only to its insurance products and not to investment products which are subject to market risk and fluctuation in value.

Contract Withdrawals & Transfer Restrictions

Participants may deposit and withdraw on a daily basis at contract value. Participants may also transfer to other investment options in the plan. Transfer restrictions may exist for any plan offering competing funds. Competing funds may include money market funds, other guaranteed funds, and bond funds with a duration of less than 3 years. Participants should contact the plan administrator with questions regarding transfers from this option.

Guarantees are based on the claims-paying ability of New York Life.

1. The initial crediting rate will last through December 31 of the first year and will reset every January 1 and July 1 in subsequent years. Rates in subsequent years are declared in advance and fixed for six-month periods. The GIA has a contractual minimum crediting rate, which ranges from 1.00% to 3.00%, and is calculated at each rate reset date based on the formula described in the GIA group annuity contract.

2. While the GIA carries relatively low risk, there are some risks associated with the GIA group annuity contract, including, but not limited to: (1) the risk that New York Life will default on its obligations under the contract or that other events could render the contract invalid; (2) the risk that the contract is terminated and, as a result, payments from the contract are subject to a negative market value adjustment or are paid over an extended period of time, depending on the terms of the particular contract; or (3) that certain transfers will require a 90-day holding period in an investment option with increased exposure to risk; (4) the risk that certain actions taken by an employer or plan sponsor (for example, mergers, spin-offs, lay-offs, early retirement incentives, bankruptcy of the plan sponsor) could, depending on the type of contract, result in participant withdrawals and transfers being subject to payment restrictions, withdrawal charges or negative market value adjustments.

All information in this fact sheet is as of the date in the title, unless otherwise noted.

New York Life may earn more or less from amounts invested in the GIA than the interest amount it credits depending on investment conditions affecting the general account. When the investments in the GIA earn more than what is credited, New York Life retains the difference, known as "spread" revenue.

In accordance with its needs, and subject to New York Life approval, the plan may request an expense charge rate for its GIA funding agreement other than the 0.10% rate displayed herein. New York Life will deduct the expense charge selected by the plan, a portion of which may be paid to other plan service providers. The GIA is a group annuity contract and not a mutual fund or a collective trust. New York Life provides the guarantee of principal and accumulated interest. New York Life may earn more or less than the interest rate it credits to the GIA. The interest rate that New York Life credits to the GIA will never be less than 1.00%. This option is not guaranteed by the FDIC or the federal government. Past performance is no guarantee of future results.

The product features described in this document are governed by the terms of the funding agreement between New York Life Insurance Company and the agreementholder. Policy Form No: GIA-529-FA - (Funding Agreement 529) - New York Life Insurance Company, New York, NY.

The GIA for 529 Plans is a funding agreement and not a mutual fund or a collective trust. New York Life provides the guarantee of principal and accumulated interest. New York Life may earn more or less than the interest rate it credits to the GIA. The interest rate that New York Life credits to the GIA will never be less than 1.00%.
