New York Life Stable Value Investments

New York Life Stable Value Option

For 403(b) and 457(b) Retirement Plans

The plan sponsors of tax-exempt, not-for-profit organizations need the help of specialists who can guide them in the decision making on all aspects of their plan. According to LIMRA’s Secure Retirement Institute, there are over 30 million participants with more than $1.8 trillion in assets within the not-for-profit retirement market as of March 31, 2020.¹

Retirement readiness should be equally important across all retirement plan participants and promoted by plan sponsors, regardless of the type of plan offered. Whether it be choosing and coordinating multiple vendors, increasing participation rates, or implementing plan success metrics — plan sponsors need expert advisement.

New York Life Guaranteed Interest Account (GIA)
GIA is structured as a general account stable value option. The 403(b) segment makes up nearly 25% of the assets under management within GIA.² This segment has experienced consistent growth over the last five years. Since 2015, the assets from 403(b) investments in GIA have grown by over 135%.²

GIA resets its crediting rate twice a year – July 1 and January 1. During the six-month period following a rate reset, interest earned by participants will not change and cannot fall below the minimum rate for that period. The minimum rate is subject to change every six months, but will always be set in a range between 1.00% and 3.00%. Full liquidity is available for participant initiated transactions such as deposits, withdrawals and transfers to other investment options. The current rate for newly issued contracts is shown below.
